

MCP FEBRUARY Students of the Month

Aidan Hernandez is our February Elementary School Student of the Month. Aidan was nominated because he's a great listener in class and loves to help others. If Aidan sees a need, he'll take care of it without being asked! Aidan is always fun to be around and is ready to greet others with a smile! Way to be a great leader, Aidan!

Ryleigh McWilliams is our February Middle School Student of the Month. Ryleigh was nominated because she constantly exhibits leadership in and outside classes with her eagerness to help, encourage others, and her positivity. Ryleigh strives to exceed expectations and is extremely goal-oriented. Fantastic work, Ryleigh

Damon Fuller is our February High School Student of the Month! Damon brings a positive dynamic to his onsite classes with helpful contributions to discussion, his respect for others, and positivity. Damon and his team from Tri-Tech Skills Center received first place in Washington's 4th Congressional District entry for the Congressional App Challenge. They created a STEM-based app called "Powerhouse" which addresses challenges in the energy industry. The team won $250 in Amazon services, will be given a tour of PNNL and will be featured on a video display at the U.S. Capitol Building as well at House.gov. We're so proud of you, Damon!
